

By combining the latest in technology with a supportive, individualized program, the school is able to meet the needs of young high performance athletes, enabling them to graduate high school while maintaining their standings on the competition circuit. Now they do not have to choose between school and sport, they can have both.

Your donation will help provide scholarships and the technical equipment required to ensure that the program can deliver on the promise of a first-class education to help them achieve academic success while striving for athletic achievement.

WinSport Canada™ is seeking financial assistance for the National Sport School. The National Sport School provides a flexible educational environment for high performance male and female student athletes, grades 9-12, from both summer and winter Olympic sports. Some students lose up to 50% of their school attendance through competition and training commitments in their chosen sport.

For more information about the National Sport School or to find out how your donation contributes to student athletes, please contact Stephen Norris at 403-202-6572 or visit the website at www.nationalsportschool.ca.
